The screenshot displays the 'Listening' section of the 'Study Skills Success!' website. At the top, there are navigation buttons: 'Menu', 'Back', 'Forward', 'Signposts', and 'Marking'. Below these is a media control bar with play, pause, and volume icons. The main content area shows a listening exercise with five questions, each with three options (a, b, c). A photograph of a woman is visible on the right side of the page. On the right-hand side, there is a vertical sidebar with several icons and labels: 'Progress', 'Scratch pad', 'Print', 'Recording', and 'Weblinks'. The interface is designed to be user-friendly and interactive.

Question 5
When we hear In other words, we expect to hear the previous idea summarised.
"When rich people were fatter, a rounded figure was prized. Now the poorer social classes tend to be fatter, being overweight is looked down on. In other words society relates body shape to financial or social position."

=====

Question 6
When we hear but actually, we prepare ourselves for a contrast, perhaps a surprising one.
"It is often assumed that the poor eat unhealthily because they cannot afford to eat well. But actually, we find that the typical high fat, fast food diet of the poor is relatively expensive."

=====

Question 7
But the thing is signals a slightly surprising result.
"The intense worry about body shape does not seem to have spread to the Mediterranean societies. They eat a relatively high fat diet with lots of cheese, but the thing is that they are on average slimmer than in the UK, the US and Australia."

Question 8
And the result will be obviously signals that we should listen for the expected result of the action just suggested.
